The lowest resting charge a LiPo battery can have is 3.7V. But some drones may have two cells, three cells, or even more. The voltage in each cell is added together to give the total voltage. For instance, if a battery has 7.4 V, that means it has two cells. 11.1 V means three cells, and so on. And the batteries will be denoted 2S and 3S, 4S ...
