We recommend using capacitors with higher nominal voltage than the nominal voltage of the distribution network. In a 400 V distribution network, we recommend capacitors with a nominal voltage of 440 V and capacitors with a nominal voltage of 480 V for detuned power factor correction with reactors.

A leaky capacitor has the effect of a large rated capacitor that leaks and keeps the circuit from working properly. In most cases, you can over rate a capacitor and get away with it. If you double the voltage value of the capacitor but keep the supply voltage low you might want to also double the Farad value.
